Incentive-Based Approaches to Narrowing Gender Gaps
Mechanism	Actors	Project Title	Location	Grant Amount	Description	Results
Results-Based Financing	Nigerian Ministry of Finance and Ministry of Women's Affairs (in partnership with DFID and the World Bank)	Growing Girls and Women in Nigeria (G-WIN)	Nigeria	Initial amount: $21 million USD	Under former Minister of Finance Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala, Nigeria introduced a gender budgeting initiative that provided additional funds to ministries exceeding established targets on outcomes for women and girls. ⁱ The initiative focuses in five pilot sectors (agriculture, communications technology, health, water resources and public works). The initiative tied the provision of additional funds to the delivery of specific results for women and girls in Nigeria. ⁱⁱ	 Two million female farmers received cell phones, enabling their use of an e-wallet system to facilitate mobile money purchases of agricultural inputs.ⁱⁱⁱ The Ministry of Public Works began to train women as subcontractors in order to increase their likelihood of winning procurement bids. The Ministry of Health increased the number of reparative surgeries it provided to women living with fistula. A program providing grants and peer learning for women entrepreneurs allowed its beneficiaries to create 10,000 new direct jobs and thousands more indirect jobs.^{iv}
Development Impact Bond	UBS Optimus Foundation, Educate Girls (NGO), IDinsight, Instiglio, and CIFF	The Educate Girls Development Impact Bond	Rajasthan, India	Total payment is capped at $422,000 USD and expected payout is $367,000 USD.*	This DIB is a three-year program to enroll and educate marginalized girls and boys in rural Rajasthan. It targets 18,000 children (9,000 girls) from 166 government schools. The initiative aims to enroll out-of-school girls in school and improve literacy and numeracy. ^{vi}	 Enrolled 44% of all out of school girls identified in year one and achieved 23 percent of its total target for learning progress; on track to meet 2018 targets for enrollment and learning.^{vii} The DIB has accelerated learning gains by 30% in its first year. ^{viii}
Development Impact Bond	The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, UNICEF, WHO and the World Bank, among other partners ^{ix}	Global Alliance for Vaccines and Immunization s/ International Finance Facility for Immunization	73 of the poorest countries in the world. 22 countries are expected to graduate by 2020. ^x	$6.3 billion USD from Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to pay back over $5 billion in investments. IFFIm has raised more than $5 billion USD. ^{xixii}	Gavi is an international organization created to improve access to new and underused vaccines for children living in the world's poorest countries. IFFIm uses long-term pledges from donor governments to sell "vaccine bonds" in capital markets. These funds go towards GAVI programs. ^{xiii}	• Partnering with Girl Effect, Gavi spent $10 million USD to increase uptake of the HPV vaccine to protect girls against 70% of cervical cancer cases. ^{Xiv xv} • More broadly, Gavi support has contributed to the immunization of 440 million children.
Development Impact Bond	United States Government	Reach Every Mother and Child Bill	Countries with the highest burden of maternal and child deaths ^{xvi}	Not determined (unspecified in bill)	The bill uses DIBs to fund interventions that improve maternal and child health, specifically to end preventable maternal, newborn, and child deaths globally within a generation. ^{xvii} xviii	Bill not yet passed

Social Impact Bond	Asia IIX, Clinton Global Initiative, Rockefeller Foundation and USAID, among others	Women's Livelihood Bond ^{xix}	Southeast Asia	$16 million USD	Investors finance microfinance institutions that benefit women; as women transition from rural to subsistence livelihoods and increase their credit, investors receive both financial and social returns.
